BEHAVIORAL HEALTHCARE

Alliance practices the Housing First approach.

We believe that housing is a platform that improves an individual's quality of life, allows them to pursue their own goals and dreams, and serves as a foundation for their recovery.

Housing Resources:
A Foundation for Recovery

Requests for housing assistance are made by members of the Alliance Provider Network on behalf of the individuals they serve.

Transitions to Community Living Initiative (TCLI)

Part of an agreement between the State of North Carolina and the US Department of Justice, TCLI helps people with serious mental illness be able to live within a community of their choice in the least restrictive settings, supported by a tailored package of intensive wraparound services.

Permanent Supportive Housing Programs

Alliance administers two federally-funded housing programs located in Durham County.

The DASH Program serves individuals and families who are chronically homeless and living with a behavioral health condition.

The Housing and Healthcare Program also serves individuals who are chronically homeless and dealing with both medical and behavioral health needs.

Independent Living Initiative (ILI)

A short-term and one-time (per year) financial assistance program for adults and families who are receiving services through Alliance:

- + Eviction prevention and rapid re-housing funds
- + Utility assistance
- + Start-up funds, such as security deposits, to help adults/families move into permanent housing.

Restoring Hope Initiative

A four to twelve month longer-term rental assistance program to assist frequent users of crisis services, jails, residential settings or hospitals who are homeless or at risk for becoming homeless. Persons must have a service provider and be able to enter into their own lease.

Landlords as Partners

Alliance values the relationship with landlords who provide housing to the people we serve. Many of our programs provide longer-term assistance paid by Alliance, and we also help coordinate the services and supports an individual or family needs.

We also provide incentives and risk mitigation funds to offer additional supports to landlords who partner with us.
